RELEVANT PROJECTS:

TASTest dashboard

Full Stack Web Developer

In an agile team of four, I contributed significantly to the creation of a dashboard application enabling researchers to effortlessly browse and manage database content, along with dynamically modifying database structures.

Key Contributions and Technical Leadership:

- Spearheaded the development of a tiered user management system, effectively allocating database operation permissions according to different user roles.
- Led the construction of the frontend interface, enhancing user interaction and operational efficiency.

Technology Transition for Enhanced Flexibility:

- Identified the limitations of the Spring Boot framework in accommodating dynamic database structure modifications, prompting a strategic shift to the more adaptable Express framework.
- Rapidly mastered and deployed the new technology, ensuring seamless backend integration and continuous functional improvements.
